WESTLAKE HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

"On the stage" of Westlake High School there were many skits and acts portrayed throughout the year.

As you turn the pages of this review, you recapture at a glance the happiness of many of these scenes: the football games under the bright floodlights, the bustle of many behind-the-scene activities, the laughter and joking between scenes, and learning our parts in the classroom.

The year of 1951 and 1952 packed much comedy and excitement, and even a sprinkling of pathos into this exceptionally fine drama.

We, the understudies, wish to extend to our stars the best of luck in all their future productions.

Rosalind Voyner

To Miss Rosalind A. Voyner . . .

We dedicate this, our yearbook of '52, for her long hours of hard work, for her patience and understanding, and for her constant desire to make our school a better one.

The Westlake Band, which she organized six years ago, placed third in strong competition at the Charity Game and played also in the spring concert. Miss Voyner, looking toward the future, has worked hard with her junior band with the idea of replacements for our graduates.

When we think of the success of our glee club and band, we must remember and feel grateful for the energy that she puts forth behind the scenes.

To you, Miss Voyner, with these things in mind, we dedicate the Panorama of 1952.

Appreciations

In appreciation of our faithful office girl, Doris, we cannot fully express our gratefulness for her many efforts. Doris can well be credited with helping to keep our school's business and activities running smoothly and efficiently. Her help to Mr. Read and Mr Burneson in the office has been priceless. Doris does not limit her work to just that which is required. For instance, one telephone call may have her going all through the school searching for a person to answer it. Doris helps with our schedules, sells us our supplies, and does what she can for the faculty. In putting all these things together, we can truly realize how worthy and deserving Doris is of our vote of thanks for her competent services here at Westlake.

In honoring Mr. Edward Rasmussen, our science and math teacher, we must not forget his patience in our laboratory, as well as in the classroom, in teaching us some very difficult subjects. Mr. Rasmussen has, not just this year, but for many years, been the Juniors' able advisor in planning the magazine campaigns, the Junior-Senior Banquet, and the Junior dance. When we think of Mr. Rasmussen, we think of efficiency. This has been proved many times over by his fine, organized committees, and the wonderful results he gets from his students. The Juniors can certainly attribute their success to Mr. Rasmussen's fine leadership.

Once again a bigger and better Panorama has been produced, and once again we can credit our achievement to the long hours of hard work by our advisor, Miss Marilyn Hackett. Miss Hackett's democratic and efficient guidance has given our staff a feeling of security; for her optimism, even through the worst times, has relieved the always-present pressure and rush that a Panorama staff must go through. Thank you, Miss Hackett, on behalf of the whole school for your efforts in giving us a fine annual.

To these people we express our gratitude. However, we do wish to thank the faculty for their sincere efforts to make us all more intelligent and better citizens.

Class History

The main characters—and we do mean "characters"—of this old-fashioned variety show—marched on stage for their premiere performance back in September, 1940. This first act was a real Frankenstein "horror" skit, with little Dave Beato, Rachel Cooley, Sally Davis, Arlene Hanzely, Freddie Harbath, Kenny Kauffman, Billy Kohler, Tommy Michelich, Eric Moeller, Roger Richards, Dorothy Siferdin, Pat Stanich, Lenny Thomsen, and Bobby Wise starring as the "little monsters" who terrorized Miss Davis.

The next feature brought Allan Pohlman, Dick Runser, and Shirley Ruddy before the footlights. Roger Richards, however, stole the show by singing "I'm a Lonely Little Petunia in an Onion Patch" amid strains of lovely operetta music.

The third act was a style show, featuring Gail Friedrich and Dorothy Wentling as the models in their first appearance on the Westlake stage.

When the group reached the fourth grade—whoops—we mean "act"—the child stars changed from their "horror" costumes, etc., and appeared on stage, joined by Gary Greive, Dolores and Dorothy Harvey, and Juanita McDaniel, in dancing costumes. In the act, and continuing through the fifth, these dancers moved from corner to corner of the stage in an interpretive dance symbolizing the moving of school children from room to room.

In the sixth act, Caroline and Miriam Hessenthaler appeared on stage to join the cheering section in the Army-Navy game.

The seventh act was a military skit depicting a group of sailors on leave. New enlistees Lois Fischer, Jim Garrity, and Shirley Ruddy (who had left in the sixth act and had just returned) along with the rest of the company, expected many leaves and liberties, until Mr. Scott changed their plans.

The solo appearance of Donna Rempher, who hadn't been on stage before this, was the feature of the eighth act; and this troupe was joined in the 9th selection by the quintet of Bernice Biltz, Pat Humpal, Arline Klaameyer, Adeline Krone, and Harvey Wentling.

The next scene—the tenth grade—the little monsters who had developed into creatures occasionally resembling ladies and gentlemen presented a colorful dance entitled "Festival of Spring." Working with the other stars was a newcomer, Doris DeSimoni. It was in this new scene, too, that the bright new sweaters of green and gold emerged.

In the next act, Norman Boardman, Clara Diesler, Aggie Hart, and Dee Polansky joined the company on stage, first in costumes suggesting hard work, and later in formal attire suggesting dreamy, romantic dancetime.

The grand finale, including Lloyd Hoag as a newcomer, saw forty-two great stars lined up across the stage. Curtain call after curtain call, and twelve years of successful running on the Westlake stage have brought the show to a conclusion. Now the producers are putting the show on the road to bring the great entertainment to the rest of the world!

Senior Class Will

In the interest of welfare for our inexperienced underclassmen we, seniors of '52, wish to extend these, our useful traits and characteristics, our policies of good will, our fine personalities, our good looks, our ability to get out of making up time, our accurate eraser shots, and anything we have which may enable them to graduate as successful as we.

To the juniors, to whom we are no longer brothers, we give the power to dominate your underclassmen.

To the sophomores, we bequeath Mr. Rasmussen and Miss Wilson and any magazines you can find for your coming campaign.

To the needy freshmen, who have experienced their first wild high school year, some aspirin tablets for the late nights you will have working on term papers.

Prophecy

It is opening night at the new Westlake Theater, designed by David Beato and built by the Robert Wise Construction Company. The play is Why?, produced by Phil Richard, decorated by Norman Boardman, and adapted by Shirley Ruddy from Adeline Krone's novel, Why Not?

As the curtain goes up, we see those famous stars, Lloyd Hoag and Sally Davis, dancing in a glittering ballroom to the music of James Garrity's Band. Just as the well-known night club singer, Constance Grugle, steps up to the mike in a stunning gown designed by Delores Polansky, Gail Friedrich runs in with a gun in her hand. Seeing Sally dancing with Lloyd, she slinks over and hits Sally on the head with the gun. As Sally falls unconscious, Gail rushes out with the policeman, Harvey Wentling, hard after her. End of first act.

The second act begins in the jail, where Gail's lawyer, Thomas G. Michelich, is trying to get Gail out of jail. While the lawyer is arguing, Bill Kohler, the Chief of Police, comes in. Following him are Caroline Hessenthaler and the newspaper reporter, Bernice Biltz. After Gail is put into her cell, everyone leaves except Gail and Bill.

As the night wears on, Bill falls asleep. Soon there is a tapping on Gail's cell window. Looking out, she sees her friend, Leonard Thomsen, who runs a very respectable bar on the outskirts of the town. Leonard breaks the window, and Gail escapes. Leonard takes her to the bar, where Patricia Stanich serves them milk, and they watch Rachel Cooley and Dorothy Harvey dance. End of second act.

Intermission. As intermission begins, we hear the voice of Fred Harbath selling flashlights in the balcony. Before the theater lights are all on, Gary Greive, the theater manager, charges down the aisle and throws out Richard Runser, a rubber band manufacturer, who has been shooting spit wads. When the lights are on, we look around and see Dolores Harvey, who is president of the local Businessmen's Association; Shirley Heckerman, who sells engagement rings at a shop in New York; Eric Moeller, who is head of the Moe's Department Stores; Dorothy Wentling and Dorothy Siferdin, who manage the Dorothys' Beauty Salon; and the play critic, Miriam Hessenthaler.

Everybody is running for a seat; the lights are going out, and the last act begins.

The scene is at the wedding of Lloyd Hoag and Sally Davis. When the act begins, we hear Roger Richards singing hillbilly songs and see on one side Sally's mother, Pat Humpal, crying softly, and on the other side, Lloyd's mother, Arline Klaameyer, crying loudly. As we look up farther, we see that the preacher, Kenneth Kauffman, who is ready, and that the maid of honor, Arlene Hanzely, is crying, and that the bridesmaids, Doris DeSimoni, Agnes Hart, and Clare Diesler, are very nervous. Now we hear Lois Fischer singing to the accompaniment of Donna Rempher on the organ.

As the tying words are spoken, we look to the back of the church and see Gail and Leonard sitting very quietly. Just then, Gail's lawyer comes in and tells them Gail is free. When they hear this, Leonard and Gail run out of the church to the house around the corner, where they are married by the Justice of the Peace, Allan Pohlman, with his wife as a witness.

As the curtain goes down, and amid the applause of the audience, we leave the theater. Outside, we see Juanita McDaniel sleeping in the ticket box. We wake her, and agree that the theater's opening night was a grand success.

"Where, O, where are the jolly Juniors? Safe now in the Senior class."

The Juniors started the school year off with some fine explosions in the chemistry lab and went on to set a new high in magazine sales. They had a hayride in October; and their dance, the Mardi Gras, in November was a big success. In March they were sporting their new class rings; and as this book goes to press, plans are getting under way for the Junior-Senior banquet, scheduled for May 10.

Where, O, where are the jolly Juniors? They've gone out from their chemistry lab, safe now in that famous Senior class.

"Where, O, where are the gay young Sophomores? Safe now in the Junior Class."

The Sophomores this year have made two successful ventures — namely, their first dance and their class sweaters. The Sophomore Dance was held on March 21. The hard work that went into it was appreciated by everyone there. After the traditional argument over sweaters, the Sophomores finally chose to wear blue and gold. They went through the ordeal of term papers for World History but came out on top. Altogether they've been a pretty good Sophomore class.

They've gone out from their old World History, safe now in the Chemistry lab.

"Where, O, where are the verdant Freshmen? Safe now in the Sophomore class."

But not until they had endured such things as all Freshmen must go through!

After choosing their own subjects, they struggled through Latin, algebra, and junior business.

The fellows went out for sports, and the girls went out for cheerleading.

However, it was not all work. Everyone had fun at the class parties, which included a hay ride in the fall and a Leap Year party at the Clague Park Cabin.

As they say good-bye to their Freshman year, the boys and girls agree that they have had a lot of never-to-be-forgotten fun.

They've gone out from their prescribed English, safe now in the history class.

Football

This year's eleven had a fairly good season, finishing a close fourth in the West County League and ending the season in the role of spoilers by tying Bay 0—0 on a slippery, frozen gridiron, thereby knocking Bay out of a tie with North Olmsted for the championship.

Only five regulars, of whom only two played both offense and defense, are graduating; and we are looking forward to a much better season next year.

Russell "Runt" Dieterich, next year's captain, was the lone Demon to make the All-County first team, although Tom Wissman, our leading scorer with 46 points, Bill Jensen, and Tom Michelich were chosen for the second team.

Basketball

November 30. Bob Finowski led Brooklyn to a surprise 43-36 victory over Westlake by scoring 25 points as the inexperienced Demons, already defeated on Brooklyn's huge floor, completely folded after Tom Wissman fouled out early in the third quarter.

December 4. Westlake played host to an outclassed Strongsville five and took an easy 50-31 decision. Tom Michelich was high scorer with three field goals and seven free throws for 13 points.

December 7. In the first sport contest ever staged between Westlake and University School, the Preppers won by a tight 45-41 score. Tom Michelich was high scorer of the game with 15 points.

December 12. Westlake traveled to North Royalton and beat the Bears 35-28. The scoring was evenly distributed among the five Demons, Michelich scoring 9; Dieterich, 8; Guercio and Gumbel, 7; and Wissman, 4.

December 14. The Demons gained a second place tie by ending Olmsted Falls' 22 league-game victory streak in a thrilling 38-36 contest. The Westlake scoring was again a team project, with Gumbel and Guercio sinking 9 points each; Michelich and Dieterich, 8; and Wissman, 4.

December 21. Tom Michelich scored 25 points as the Demons overwhelmed North Olmsted's cellar-dwelling Eagles 73-47.

December 28. In the annual Alumni game the present Demons defeated the former Demons 46-39. Michelich and Guercio scored 15 points each.

January 4. Bay dropped Westlake into third place by handing the Demons their second league defeat in six starts 53-49. The Rockets led all the way with the exception of one period three minutes before the end of the game when the score was 43-42. Bay then sank three long shots in rapid succession to put the Demons hopelessly in the hole.

January 8. Tom Wissman and Tom Michelich dumped in 18 points apiece as the Demons cemented their hold on third place in the West County League by defeating the fourth-place Brooklyn Hurricanes 56-42.

January 11. The Demons traveled to Strongsville and beat them for the second time this season 51-40. The game was very close until Westlake broke away with 20 points in the third quarter.

January 18. The red-hot North Royalton Bears, who knocked Bay Village out of a first place tie, all but eliminated Westlake from contention for the West County title, 60-53. With Tom Wissman riding the Demon bench because of a sprained ankle, Royalton had complete control of both backboards. Tom Michelich scored 16 points.

January 25. Tom Michelich poured in 23 points, but the Demons came out on the short end again at Olmsted Falls, 50-45. This defeat put Westlake out of the race.

February 1. Tom Michelich poured in 12 field goals and one free throw for 25 points as Westlake humiliated North Olmsted again 79-43. Nine Demons broke into the scoring column and three besides Michelich shot in double figures. John Guercio scored 14; Russell Dieterich, 11; and Tom Wissman, 10.

February 8. In the final regular season contest, Bay defeated Westlake 48-45 on two last-minute field goals. Tom Michelich led both quintets with 21 points.

Westlake finished in third place, with a 7-5 league record. Bay was second at 9-3, and Olmsted Falls, first with eleven victories and one defeat.

Westlake was eliminated in the tournament by Olmsted Falls at Berea on February 15 by a score of 47-37.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Under the guidance of their new coach, Mr. Whittier, the Westlake Junior Varsity won six games and lost six in league play, but lost two independent games for an over-all record of six wins and eight losses.

The opposition outscored Westlake 508-440. Herthel Norris was the high-point man with 112 markers; Charles Jacobson was second with 88.

Mr. Whittier rotated his players so that everyone could play and gain experience for future varsity competition.

Last year Coach Joe Ciresi led a scrappy, hard-running bunch of boys through the best season a Westlake baseball team has had for a long time. The Demons won the Cuyahoga County League play-off, but lost a 1-0 heart-breaker, in which Don Hopp pitched a no-hitter for eight innings only to be beaten in the second extra inning, to Clearview for the right to enter the Kent District "B" Tournament.

Westlake finished second, close behind North Royalton, for the percentage championship, with 4 wins and 2 losses in league play. Westlake stole home six times, thus making a total of 41 stolen bases.

This spring Mr. Ciresi and the team are hoping for a very successful season, maybe even—well—who knows what will happen in a baseball game? We'll have to wait until the games are played to determine just how good the Demons of 1952 are.

Student Council

Dolores Harvey	President
Dick Runser	Vice-President
Arlene Hanzely	Secretary
Tom Michelich	Treasurer

The work done by the Student Council is of primary importance in organizing and co-ordinating the activities at Westlake High. The Council has scheduled dances, has made arrangements for assemblies, has taken charge of electing the football king and queen, and has sponsored the Charity Drive for the Community Chest, March of Dimes, and the Red Cross.

This year, under the leadership of "Butch" Harvey and the direction of Miss Arndt, the Council has also required that each club present to the Council a constitution in order that the student body will be better organized.

Library Club

Stamping out books . . . looking for lost cards . . . putting books away . . . collecting fines . . . straightening up shelves and tables . . . trying to keep order and quiet in the library . . . arranging attractive bulletin boards . . . then starting all over again . . . stamp out . . . put away . . . straighten. The tasks of a librarian are—like those of a housewife—never finished. The jobs aren't exciting, nor even interesting in most cases, but they must be done in order to have a smooth-running library. The members of the Library Club this year, with the assistance of Miss MacDonald, are to be complimented for the fine way they have accepted their responsibilities, "done the chores," and kept the library running efficiently.

Green and White

The Green and White staff has spent much time and effort this year in publishing a bigger and better school paper. They have experimented with two different types of covers: one, a newspaper type cover; the other, silkscreening which they used on the Thanksgiving issue. Under the guidance of Miss Wilson and the leadership of Dave Beato, the editor, the staff has done an able job of reporting the current news and interests at Westlake High.

The club had a juke box dance after one of the basketball games and went on a sketching trip in the spring.

The purpose of the club is to enable the members to learn more about the different types of art and to help beautify the school.

The green and white uniforms of the band marching on the football field are now a familiar sight. With six years of hard work and practice, the band plays a large part in our school life.

Under the able leadership of Miss Rosalind Voyner the band has played at all the football games and the annual Spring Concert, and it brought great honor to Westlake by placing third in Greater Cleveland in the Charity Football Game competition in November.

Much credit goes, as well, to majorettes Zella Norris, Dorothy Wentling, and Jean DeSimoni, led by head majorette, Connie Burton.

Long practice sessions after school . . . hard auditorium chairs . . . P. T. W.A.C. stands for "Westlake Activities Club." This club operates on a point basis, girls earning points for their participation in various activities. A girl must earn 300 points to be a member, 1000 to get a letter, and 1700 to get a pin. Each winter, the girls who have earned 300 points are initiated into the club.

The W. A. C. sponsors the annual Football Banquet, to which football players, their fathers, and W. A. C. members are invited. This year's banquet was a big success. The W. A. C. also holds a picnic each spring.

"Leaders' Club

Sally Davis ..... President

Arlene Hanzely ..... Secretary-Treasurer

Dorothy Harvey ..... Student Council Representative

The Leaders are chosen by the faculty and the Leaders Club on the basis of their scholarship, personality, and ability in physical education. The purpose of the Leaders Club is to assist Miss Hurst in gym classes, and to referee after-school sports.

At Christmas time this year, the Club gave a basket of food and toys to a needy family and went caroling in a group. They sponsored the annual All-Star Game, and were hoping (when this book went to press) to take a trip in the spring.

New leaders chosen for next year included Ellen Weston, Sarita Cipra, Sarah Hanlon, Marilyn Jent, Marilyn MacNiven, Kathy Wilson, and Pat Zahn.

Cheerleaders

High spirits . . . loud cheering from the cheering section . . . a football game in progress . . . jumping and excited cheerleaders backing the team . . . Hold that line! . . . A touchdown! . . . Hip, Hip! Hi, Ho! . . . Fite! Fite! Fite!

A basket, a basket! . . . a flip of new green corduroy skirts . . . Team Rah! . . . the stirring pep rallies with the spirited cheers . . . Let's hear from coach . . . Stand up and cheer, Cheer loud and long for Westlake High School.

Practice for cheerleading tryouts . . . the selection of Marilyn Jent, Sarita Cipra, and Lynne Dodson as new cheerleaders. We all hope they keep up that spirit of leading cheers all through their high school days. Congratulations to all the cheerleaders for placing second in the cheerleading contest at Berea. Thanks also to Connie and Sally for all the time and patience they have spent in the last few years so that the student body could point with pride to the cheerleaders of Westlake High.

Tumbling Club

Connie Grugle ..... President
Martha Luffler ..... Vice-President
Marilyn Jent ..... Secretary

The Tumbling Club, a comparatively new club in Westlake High, was formed two years ago under the leadership of Miss Hurst, who is still the advisor.

Every Thursday after school, the girls in the Tumbling Club risk life and limb practicing various formations. The members can be recognized by their official uniform—blue shorts and white blouses.

At the beginning of the school year, tryouts were held for new members, with Gail Harbert, Wilma Jent, Kay Sprague, Jacqueline Reichlin, and Joyce Guinta being chosen as the most agile performers who tried out.

Curtain Call

FALL

School days, school days,
Good old Golden Rule days.

Round Robin game at Cuyahoga Heights field;
Westlake Demons would not yield.

The Juniors were making money again
On their annual magazine campaign.

Here was a welcome holiday
Thanks to N.E.O.T.A.

The Bay game was exciting-but-oh, my!
It ended in a scoreless tie.

Our team was made up of some pretty swell guys.
A banquet and dance was their football prize.

The Junior Dance in November
Was a highlight that we'll all remember.

Thanksgiving vacation
All over the nation.

At the Charity Game our band was heard
And we're proud to say they came in third.

WINTER

Brooklyn beat us at basketball
Oh well, our team can't win them all.

Olmsted's first loss in 23 tries
Happened when they met our guys.

Three days' vacation because of snow;
Too bad — it cancelled our Christmas show.

Everyone took his vacation to heart
But after ten days, school had to start.

Exams came, as they always do,
And the teachers found out how little we knew.

Three cheers for good old Washington,
Another holiday — lots of fun.

The Leap Year Dance was really great
The boys found out how much they rate.

This year our school ran a big contest,
And chose the Alma Mater that was the best.

Our brains were worn out, our teachers were peeved;
But 'twas Easter vacation and everyone was relieved.

SPRING

When warm weather comes & balls appear
It's plain to see that baseball's here.

The Sophomores put on their spring dance -
Their first real try at high finance.

Each Sophomore got a beautiful sweater
The Juniors thought their rings were better.

"In Pride of May" the girl's Glee Club sang
And the band's music through the auditorium rang.

The Junior-Senior Banquet then was here,
The social highlight of the year.

The Seniors are good, there's no doubt of that;
Their play was tops from where we sat.

The Seniors had their final fling
At their Prom in the spring.

Baccalaureat on Sunday eve,
A service for Seniors before they must leave.

The Seniors heaved a plaintive sigh
For Commencement Day at Westlake High.

Summer's here — school is done;
We've got three months to have some fun.
